

To Littleborough

Going downhill to Littleborough is about a 15 minute walk, uphill might take you a bit longer! If you want a slightly longer walk avoiding the road, the walk through Ealees along the canal is very pleasant.

Cross over the A58 after you have reached the Rake Inn and head towards the canal bridge. Here you can either carry on along the road to under the railway arches to Littleborough or you can take the towpath to your right and then turn directly right to go underneath the bridge before the lock. Carry on along the tow path until you reach the road. Cross over towards the subway under the station and head down towards Littleborough square.

For the longer, more scenic route:

Head towards the gate next to the big shed, turn left to walk alongside the building, carry on at the side of the field with the wall to your left hand side.

Go over the stile next to the gate and head down taking a diagonal line across the field towards the right hand corner. Cross the stile next to the hawthorn and follow the path down through the wood and as it winds to the right past Lane Foot Farm. After you have descended the steps, follow the farm lane to the right.

Carry on past the mill until you come to a tarmac road. Turn left at the side of the houses and take to the right that leads in front of the houses towards the canal. Cross over the bridge and follow the towpath to your left. This will lead you to Hollingworth Road. Cross over towards the subway under the station and head towards Littleborough square.

Pubs/Wine Bars in the Centre, the ones with the Asterix also do food.
